Angie and Brad's HONEYMOON FROM HELL!

The honeymoon was over before it even began for Brad Pitt, 50, and Angelina Jolie, 39. After their Aug. 23 wedding, they headed to Gozo, Malta — but there wasn't much of a chance for romance. For starters, they were also there to work on their new movie, By the Sea. Then they managed to annoy the neighbors: "They are using two villas and rented out another four so that they would have privacy," says a source. "It's pissed off the locals because they are preventing people in the area from walking around the bay!" Meanwhile, their six kids aren't exactly captivated by the exotic locale. "There is nothing for the kids to do but sit around and eat prepackaged foods like burgers and salads! It's a disaster." &

LUXE LOCALE OF THE WEEK

A High-End Sushi Spot Comes to Boston

If you like a side of stargazing with your sushi and sashimi, head to Uni Sashimi Bar in Boston. There's a good chance you'll be elbow to elbow with Uni regular Mark Wahlberg — there's only 24 seats inside its dimly lit dining room. Please your palette with rare A5 Wagyu Japanese beef sirloin or stuff yourself silly with Uni's $115 Omakase tasting menu.

Mark's fave sushi spot!
